

Bachelor of Arts in International Studies

Summit Technology Academy in partnership with University of Central Missouri

The Fast Track program helps students determine if international studies is the right career choice and prepares them for success with a Bachelor of Arts in International Studies.

What Does the Fast Track Program Offer?

- Opportunity to earn three hours of international studies with an additional 27 dual credit hours while in high school.
 - Earn up to 12 additional hours of language credits.
 - Maximize dual credits and finish your degree sooner.
 - Meet with a UCM advisor to plan out your path.
 - Develop valuable intercultural competencies that employers look for in job candidates.
 - Save up to 70% off undergraduate tuition with dual credit courses and learn about UCM scholarships to help pay for your tuition.
- Meet UCM international studies professors and learn firsthand about study tours and study abroad opportunities around the world.
 - Participate in various service-learning programs and learn about the Peace Corps training program.
 - Opportunity to become a member of the STA Academic World Quest trivia team and compete in the International Relations Council against 30 high schools.
 - Meet UCM international students and participate in the English Conversation Partnership Program.
